O/CONGRESSIONAL AFFAIRS
86-3402

As required by the "Diplomatic Security Act" (Pub. L. 99-399), the General Accounting Office is initiating a study of the implications of deleting the place of birth from U.S. passports. Specifically, we are required to:

- Evaluate the pros and cons of retaining the place of birth on passports.
- Identify, and determine the costs associated with, alternative means of obtaining place of birth information for government enforcement efforts.

We would like to discuss these issues with CIA representatives.
